1. The U.S. Bureau of Statistics projects that in the next few years STEM jobs will grow almost twice as fast as any other profession.

2. The U.S. will have over 1 million jobs by 2018 in STEM fields — but only 16% of the degrees awarded to U.S. college students will be in STEM specializations.

3. In the next decade, 80% of all jobs will require technical skills.

4. By 2014, the top 20 fastest growing occupations will require significant Math and Science preparation, according to the U.S. Department of Labor.
